Ride • $24.50 Uber • two turns

Maria's seeded appointment is tomorrow (Dr. Chen, Springfield Family Medicine).

1. Ask for a ride to the doctor

- Please get me a ride to my doctor tomorrow.
- Get me a ride to my doctor tomorrow
- I need a ride to the doctor
- Take me to the doctor tomorrow
- Uber to my appointment

Ride words: ride, uber, car, taxi, cab, drive, driver, take me, get me to, bring me, pick me up, lift.

Doctor words: doctor, appointment, checkup, clinic, Chen, physician.

2. When she asks "Should I set that up?", say yes

- Yes
- Yes, book it
- Okay • Sure • Go ahead • That works

That first yes opens the card: "The Uber is $24.50. Should I book it?" Confirm or a second yes books. Cancel or No / Don't / Stop declines.

I need a ride → she asks where → To the doctor (or any place) continues the same path.

Take me to the doctor today says there isn't one today and offers tomorrow.

Family message • one turn

Opens the notify card immediately. Do not use ride words in the same sentence.

- Please tell my family I am going to the doctor.
- Text James I am going to the clinic
- Let my son know I have an appointment

- Notify my caretaker

These will not open the card

- What time is my doctor's appointment tomorrow? — info only
- A lone yes with no ride plan yet
- A leftover checkpoint after a restart — sessions are in-memory; restart the API if one is stuck
